Project 2
Exercises in Style, Phase 3

Instructions

1. Find a way to link each cover page to its corresponding text treatment. This could be the same on each style or unique to each one.

2. Now that each cover and treatment are linked, create a navigation system to view the 20 styles. The navigation system will be both a landing page (or, homepage for the project) and some sort of consistent device on each page within your project.

    The landing page should…
    — Contain links to each of the 20 styles

    The consistent page device should…
    — Contain next and previous links to the next and previous style
    — Be relatively subtle; not interfere with the visual priority of the style
    — Be relatively the same on each page
    — Possibly visually relate to your landing page
    — Contain "random" link to chance style (optional)

    Somewhere logical within these pages you should have…
    — Title of each style
    — Link to sites you copied from
    — Purpose of copying (in your own words)
